Extension Of Rosemead Is Approved

Supervisors Put Important Highway Improvement On Post War Program

Its construction recommended this week by the highway committee of the California Chamber of Commerce, extension of Rosemead boulevard through the Hastings Ranch to connect with Michigan avenue in La Canada was approved by the county supervisors Tuesday as a post war project. It will be a highly desirable and important thoroughfare affording a short cut from the desert and the north country with the populous area south of the mountains, the chamber committee believes.

The project was one of the many things that dropped out of sight with the attack on Pearl Harbor, though a year ago plans were under way to secure a right of way and construction was expected shortly to be authorized. Objections to the extension originally came from two sources. Because the proposed route would cut diagonally across his ranch from the present northern terminal of Rosemead boulevard at Pothill boulevard, the late Charles Hastings, owner of the ranch, was a vigorous opponent. He assured this newspaper he would never consent to this or any other highway crossing his property as he did when Sierra Madre boulevard was cut through from the Sierra Madre city limits into Pasadena. But this opposition was anticipated and it was proposed to acquire the necessary land through condemnation proceedings.

More opposition to the extension came from Altadena where property owners on Mendocino street and Morado Place objected to either of these streets being used as a part of the route.

The original plan proposed that the outlet hook up with the Angeles Crest Highway across the mountains to the Big Pines recreation area and main highways of the Mojave desert north. With this idea in mind the State Chamber of Commerce also strongly recommended completion of the Angeles Crest Highway at the earliest possible time.

"Due to the war it is impossible to carry on much of a highway construction program now," said County Road Commissioner Cooley early this week. "Many projects that have been outlined cannot be carried out now, though we may start to acquire rights of way and make surveys so that work may start when peace comes. . . . Rosemead extension is one of these."

Encourage Youths To Attend Woman's Club Dances

Don Parker's orchestra is to provide the rhythm on the night of November 28 for the first in a series of monthly dances sponsored by the Woman's Club to be held at the clubhouse. This announcement came today from Mrs. J. Stadden Miller, who heads the dance committee.

The club has adopted a plan for these events calculated to make parents feel perfectly safe in permitting their children to attend. Here as some of the rules for young dance patrons: Gentlemen are to wear coats, collars and ties at the dances; no one may leave the clubhouse unless it be to go home; the dances will begin at 8:30 o'clock and be over by midnight.

Sponsors will be on hand, Mrs. Miller said, to see to it that propriety is maintained at all times.

WAR BOND ESSAY CONTEST IS DEVELOPING YOUNG AUTHORS AT GRAMMAR SCHOOL

There is feverish excitement at the grammar school this week. Supt. Gerald Smith dangled prizes of $5, $4 and $3—$36 in all, before pupils of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, and that is a lot of money for youngsters eager to do a little Christmas shopping. And all they have to do is to write just 50 words—no more, on the subject, "Why I am Buying War Bonds and Stamps."

Every pupil in the three classes is an entrant in an essay contest sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, details of which Supt. Smith explained at an assembly. Nothing that has happened at the school this semester brought greater joy or more genuine interest. The

Friday---The 13th

There are a lot of things you'll refrain from doing Friday if you are superstitious. It's not only Friday, but the 13th day of the month. But many people who refuse to admit they are superstitious will refrain from walking under ladders and otherwise be cautious even though a black cat crossing their path will give no concern whatever.

Rent Control Confusion Is Ended

After many misleading reports and confusing statements it was definitely announced this week that Sierra Madre is in the Pasadena rent control area as previously announced in the NEWS—and that registration of owners of rental properties residing here will be through the Pasadena office of the rent control board at 96 East Colorado street.

With the official announcement came the comforting statement that it will not be necessary to appear in person either to secure or to file the registration blanks. They may be had by writing the Rent Control Board at 1016 South Pasadena office at the address Broadway, Los Angeles, or the given above. When they have been filled out and signed by the property owner they may be returned by mail to either address. But every owner of a rental property, even though it be only a room or a garage, must register.

Meanwhile a carload of registration forms intended for Southern California has been lost in transit between Kansas City and Los Angeles and none are now available. They are expected to arrive before the weekend. The registration period will accordingly be lengthened, extending for probably 60 days.

Golden Wedding Is Celebrated By Pastor And Wife

In their attractive new-old home at 256 Adams street Rev. and Mrs. Oliver Jay Fairfield last week quietly celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Their three children and five grands being on the Atlantic coast were unable to be present, but celebrated in absentia. The old house was reconstructed and completed just in time for this occasion and Mr. Fairfield admitted that this is the "steenth" home in which he and his bride have lived in these 50 years. . . .

Concert Pianist To Play At Bethany Church On Sunday

James H. Shearer, concert organist, will play the service and a group of organ numbers preceding the evening service at Bethany Church beginning at 7:15 p.m., next Sunday, November 15th. He is an organist with in international reputation having played in the music centers of the world and is endorsed by Widor, Paris; Scharwenka, Berlin, and Matthay, London. He is an associate of the Royal College of Music, London. He was formerly organist of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church. At the close of the service he will play additional organ music. Everyone is invited.

Draftees May Spend Xmas At Home

Big December Army Call Will Permit Men To Remain Here Over Holidays

At least eight of the 25 Sierra Madreans sent to the Los Angeles Induction Center Tuesday have reported to the NEWS that they were subsequently rejected by Army officers. The official list of names of district men rejected is not yet available, according to local draft headquarters. Until it is official, the NEWS may not publish the names of the men turned down by the Army.

Men expecting to be drafted in December who have been wondering whether they would be permitted to spend the Christmas holidays with their families may rest easy. Kenneth Beanson, secretary of the local draft board, made it known yesterday that although the army will issue two heavy calls late in December, these will be so timed that men who are to be inducted will be able to spend both Christmas and New Years at home.

Beanson hinted that men in Class 3A whose dependency is collateral—who have no mother or children dependent on them—would be hardest hit by the new quotas, as yet unannounced.

It is generally understood that the December demand of National Selective Service headquarters will be "terrific." Mr. Beanson did not deny it.

SIXTEEN TONS OF EXTRA TIRES TURNED IN HERE

Sierra Madreans have already turned in 16 tons of extra tires to the local Railway Express office at the Pacific Electric station and with gasoline rationing now set for December 1, were all going strong yesterday when more than 70 casings were piled up in and around the station.

Until a week ago the average number of tires turned in was 40 a day. Then residents began to really dig into their attic, basement and garage caches and spick and span new tires that had never been on a rim began to show up. One resident turned in a dozen such specimens. Others turned in six and eight apiece. Many were strewn around the station entrance and tracks at night after the station closed. Between receiving, storing and loading tires on P. E. freight cars Station Agent Graham has been given a real workout and is ready for another vacation now.

Bob Tarr Has Gone Into The Army

Bob Tarr, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Tarr of 274 W. Montecito, has volunteered for Army service. He expects to attend a school for Military Police for at least three months before being assigned to active duty. Bob has had over eight years of service as deputy under Sheriff Shay of San Bernardino County and has been stationed at Barstow.

NAMES OF MEN IN ARMED FORCES WANTED FOR ROLL OF HONOR

So that it will appear on a roll of honor of Sierra Madreans serving with the armed forces now being prepared by the Kiwanis Club, the name of every local man or boy with the Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard is wanted. So that he may receive a Christmas remembrance his present address is wanted, too—and as soon as possible. The task of preparing the list has been entrusted to Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard, who has called upon the NEWS for help in the letter below.

If you have a father, son, brother or other relative who lived in this city at the time of entering any of the above named services please send or bring them in (in writing, not by telephone) at the earliest possible time. When completed as to men now in service this roll of honor will be posted at the city hall, published in the NEWS, and included in the city's official records, being added to as others join the colors. Here is Dr. Pritchard's letter:

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:

Well nigh 200 men have gone from Sierra Madre into the armed forces of our country. The community, through the Kiwanis Club, wishes to express to them our allegiance and goodwill at the Christmas season, but their addresses are so subject to change the greetings may not reach them. Will you please ask the families and friends of these men to send the last known addresses to me in care of the NEWS office? We especially wish this if the address has been changed recently.

Let Christmas loyalty and good-will abound.

Sincerely yours,
ARTHUR O. PRITCHARD.

SYMBOL OF OUR FREEDOM

Throughout the history of mankind symbols have exerted an impelling influence upon the lives of men. In America, the symbol of freedom, the symbol of independence, the symbol of everything we hold dear, is the American flag.

As the war goes on and as our armed forces move into battle lines all over the world, the American flag goes with them at the head of columns. Yet, here at home, except on rare occasions, our flags are stored away for some future day which may never come if those afield are not held aloft with strong hands.

In support of the war effort and the influence which our flag has upon the national morale, would it not be appropriate now to hold aloft our flag on the home front—on our factories, on our homes and on our public buildings?

To kindle a more alert loyalty to the America we love, to foster a truly cohesive national unity, to create for post-war America an increased appreciation and love for the American way, let us raise the flag on the home front. And let it remain to found more firmly the determination that the national ideals for which our flag was born and for which it stands shall not perish from the earth.

City May Lift Bars On Electricians

Because war and industry have taken nearly all qualified electricians from the city the City Council has decided to see if something can be done about waiving the $50 license fee which must be paid by all workers doing work here valued over $200. The idea is that it should be easier to persuade outside electricians to come here if there is no such restriction.

No Coffee During Week Of Nov. 22

Through the office of the area price control and rationing board local stores and markets have been advised that no coffee is to be sold during the week beginning November 22. Rationing begins November 29. The rest period is intended to allow both wholesale and retail dealers to build up their stocks in preparation for the rationing.

Build Sewer Line Into Race Track

Army Orders Correction Of Menace To Health Of Its Troops And Whole Area

When the main body of troops that will be quartered at the Santa Anita race track arrives a main objection to use of the racing plant as an Army camp will have been removed. Construction of a sewer disposal outlet that will carry camp sewage to the Los Angeles county metropolitan trunk sewer at Montebello, a distance of 10 miles, began this week.

One contractor is working on a section of the vitrified brick sewer line north from Montebello. Two other contracts will be awarded within a few days to hasten completion of the job.

During occupancy of the race track property as an assembly center by 19,000 Japanese internees bitter complaints were registered by residents of Arcadia and other nearby communities to the south and west of the track who protested that sewage conditions at the center were a menace to the health of the whole area and these complaints were repeated to the government when announcement was made that the track would be used as a large troop training camp for artillerymen.

Soldiers began to arrive shortly after evacuation of the Japanese was completed and scores of workmen are still adapting the property to the Army's uses. It is expected 3000 men will be quartered at the track this month.

Knight Re-Elected Assemblyman By Majority Of 8,564

Assemblyman T. Fenton Knight of La Canada was chosen to represent the 48th assembly district, at Sacramento again at last week's election by a majority of 8,564, defeating Virginia Timberlake Steinberger, of Sierra Madre, the Democratic nominee. Returns from the district were not entirely complete for two days after the election and the official count now in progress is expected to change the figures little if any. Knight received 13,728 votes and Mrs. Steinberger 5164.

Date Shifted But No Change In Regulations For Gas Ration Registration

Employees Of City Given $10 Raise

Subject to approval of the National Labor Board, Sierra Madre's 19 city employees were voted their second wage increase of the year by the city council Tuesday evening. Each man will receive a flat raise of $10 a month. A similar increase was voted them when the 1942-43 municipal budget was adopted shortly after the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1.

The inflation act recently adopted by Congress requires that no wages or salaries may be increased without approval of the tribunals set up by the act. In this case, however, it is expected approval of the increases will come automatically since the July raise failed to meet the increased living costs and this latest one calls for no additional drain upon the taxpayers.

The wage increases will be met out of the $190 a month heretofore drawn by Marion Hays as street superintendent. He has enlisted with the Coast Guard and his duties and title have been added to those of Water Superintendent Joe Swanson. Swanson received a $35 increase when he was appointed water superintendent and will now receive the additional $10 voted the other employees. Vernon Udell, Swanson's assistant, also received an increase in the new budget but will not lose his right to the now voted $10 increase.

To relieve the pressure on Swanson's time the council has authorized the appointment of Don McNealy to the street department staff.

New Jersey's New Senator Was Guest Of His Father Here

New Jersey's new Republican United States Senator, Albert W. Hawkes, now en route from his home in Kearney, N. J. to visit his daughter, Mrs. Louise Padelford, in Pasadena, is a son of the late M. A. Hawkes who resided for many years on Montecito street, and died here several years ago at the age of 92. The new Senator maintained a large winter home in Pasadena and visited his father at his home here when he came out from the East. The elder Hawkes also entertained his granddaughter here when she came up from Claremont where she was a member of the faculty of Scripps College. During the recent campaign Mrs. Padelford was secretary of the Warren for Governor committee in California and went back to New Jersey shortly before last week's election to participate in her father's campaign.

Senator Hawkes is a recent past president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and is retiring from the $70,000 a year presidency of the Congoleum Co. to devote his entire attention to his Senatorial duties at one-sixth of the salary. He left New Jersey for California yesterday. His candidacy for the Senatorship was his first and only political venture and he defeated Senator Smathers, a veteran Democratic politician, without great difficulty.

JUNK "PROSPECTORS" OF ST. RITA'S SCHOOL LOCATE PLENTY OF IT; CONTINUE THEIR DRIVE

Eight tons of scrap piled up in the school yard tells how faithfully pupils of St. Rita's school are working in their scrap drive. But their accomplishment has only spurred them on to greater efforts. They have come to understand how vitally important junk is in winning the war and they have no idea of letting up.

"Their enthusiasm is most encouraging," said Father Leo Scheible who is working with the youngsters and is no less earnest and enthusiastic about the work in hand. "They not only continue to bring in the scrap, but are everlastingly on the hunt for it," he added, "and they have spotted some good collections of it that we expect to add to our sizeable junk pile shortly. We are and will continue to ask for permission to transfer this to the collection already on hand as quickly as possible and get it started for the plants where it will be converted into war winning materials. It is badly needed and time is precious. There is still lots of junk here—our boys and girls have located it and we will continue to ask for it until it becomes part of the nation's stock pile or the war ends. We can do no less than that."

Procedure Made Somewhat More Simple For Convenience Of Car Owners

By Dr. A. O. Pritchard
Sierra Madre Member Gas Rationing Panel of Area Rationing Board

The dates for the application for "A" books have been advanced to November 18, 19, 20, and for actual rationing of gasoline to December 1.

This is due to the tremendous task of supplying forms to the various schools throughout the country—rural and urban, isolated and accessible.

Application blanks may now be secured from the City Hall and from the filling stations. The "A" books will be issued from the grammar school. Applicant must bring the application blank properly filled out, signed by the same person, if possible, and in the same form as the white registration slip, together with the number of the Federal tax fastened to the windshield. In case this person cannot be reached, the person using the car must apply in his stead.

If the white registration slip is not available the new owner may apply in person and sign an "in lieu" slip, but the white must then be filed within five days after it is received. If not so filed the rationing board has the power to revoke all ration coupons.

Motorcycles need not dispose of extra tires, and need not register them. Trailers may retain tires on wheels but no spares.

In order to secure additional mileage beyond the "A" Book a blank must be filled out and filed with the Board, showing additional miles needed. No additional mileage can be granted except for occupational use. Family driving is confined to the number of gallons allowed in the "A" Book.

Special liberal forms are allowed for people who use gasoline in non-highway methods, such as stoves, launches, etc., which may be secured from ration boards.

An easy way to determine whether one should secure an additional mileage allowance is to ask "Is my work essential to the winning of the war, or to the life and health of the community?"

Benefit Earns $100 For Community Dressing Stations

As the result of the recent benefit presented at the Woman's Club by Clement May under the auspices of the Dickens Fellowship, Mrs. N. W. Tarr, secretary of the organization, turned over approximately $100 to the home units of First Aid for dressing station equipment. The Home Nursing unit under the advice of Dr. Heagerty has organized a finance committee to distribute the money. Members of the committee include Miss Clara Sykes, chairman; Mrs. Clement May, Mrs. Rowena Gray, Mrs. M. S. Davis, and Miss Martha Pritchard.

School Children Are Told Meaning Of Armistice Day

Although the odds are roughly 365 to 1 that Armistice Day will soon have a new date, this fact did not deter pupils of the grammar school as they went ahead with their annual November 11 celebration.

Feature of the program in the school auditorium was a short talk on "The Spirit of Armistice Applied Today," by Rev. Frederic Groetsma.

The youngsters vented their enthusiasm on practically every patriotic number for which there is music and after a "red, white and blue" dance by the 7B girls, saw a movie, "The Yanks are Coming." Then Vera Swanson and George Tyree teamed up to present an enjoyable skit based on the activities of the Junior Red Cross.

Capt. O'Banion Dines With Old Command

Capt. A. E. O'Banion of 337 Camillo street, attended the annual banquet of Troop D, 40th Division of the U.S. Army active in the last war, held Saturday night in Los Angeles. Capt. O'Banion was in command of the troop in its early infancy, nursed it through its growing pains and made it one of the best military organizations in the West.

Capt. O'Banion, it will be remembered, is the man who under Gen. Homer Lea, trained the Chinese officers of China's army which, later on, rebelled, threw off the Manchu yoke and established the Chinese Republic.

Men Overseas Send Xmas Mail Early Too

American soldiers and sailors overseas were evidently given the same warning as that given the home front folks—to mail their Christmas cards and packages early if they expected them to arrive with or before Santa Claus. Christmas remembrances are beginning to come through the Sierra Madre postoffice from the Canal Zone, England, Ireland, Iceland and the Southwest Pacific. Among cards received by the NEWS was one from Sergeant Russell Lovejoy, Jr., from somewhere in Australia.

Ranger Kaylor Will Take A State Job

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

If the roughing up that Joe Hutak and Shorty Steinberger received during a practice air raid had occurred this coming Friday evening, the superstitious souls would surely have blamed it on the unlucky 13th day of the month. It was a very fortunate windup to find that these two men were able to be about the following day after such a toss around at the end of a high pressure tip. It was also good fortune not to have injured others nearby. A swinging nozzle at the end of a high pressure fire hose is as wicked and as evasive as 47 upset beehives. The sting of a flying nozzle is the worst.

In an endeavor to represent the firemen of Sierra Madre as a bowling team, Fred Krinke has gathered together what he considers the best of the lot. With such fellows as Dick Wilson, Harold Spears, Jim Heasley, Andy Liscombe and Joe Swanson, Krinke sallied forth to Monrovia last Wednesday evening and actually took down the house. With a certain amount of handicap, the team brought home three points of which they were very proud. Krinke feels that if the league lasts long enough, some of the bowlers may eventually be able to throw the ball without falling off their feet.

There is a good deal of luck about the absence of serious fires in our city coupled with cooperation of those who work with the firemen in fire prevention. Those who have lived here awhile know the dangers from fires. Operation of poorly constructed incinerators is still being found and until a house to house inspection they will continue. The regulations should be understood by all residents before attempting to do outside burning. The fire department asks that dangerous or risky burning be reported. Our firemen wish to avoid friction among neighbors, therefore your name and address is omitted from the investigation.

Tech. Sgt. Joe Hinojos, a photographer at Ft. Ord narrowly escaped injury in a serious accident Saturday when an intoxicated driver crashed into a Southbound bus on which Hinojos was returning to Sierra Madre for a weekend leave. The driver of the car and a companion were both killed, the busdriver critically injured and passengers were badly shaken up. Sgt. Hinojos climbed from the bus, set up his photographic equipment and later arrived here with some excellent and detailed photographs of the accident. He was granted a 24-hour leave extension to cover the opening of a new Hollywood USO Center and returned to camp Monday.

Sierra Madreans In Reunion In Hawaii

Proof that Sierra Madre is contributing 100 percent toward winning the war was given recently when Mrs. Harvey Steinberger of 48 S. Sunnyside avenue, received a letter from her husband who is serving with the U.S. Army Engineers in the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Steinberger wrote that he, along with former City Engineer Sam Graham and Remington Stone, who are also with the U.S. Army Engineers, had met on the islands Miss Hope Roman, a former city nurse here, and Miss Martha Newton, another former Sierra Madre resident.

A FOOL'S PARADISE

The citizen who envisages his station in life in terms of his gross annual income or even in terms of net income before taxes is living in a fool's paradise. The significant figure, which will demonstrate what scale of living he can afford, is his spendable income, which consists of his net income after taxes. Irrespective of method of collection, the net effect will be that the citizen, working 300 days a year, will be working but 150 days for himself and his family and 150 days for the Government.—M. S. Rukeyser in the Los Angeles Examiner.

OUR SHARE

"I hope you are all well, and as happy as you can be in these perilous times to our country. They look dark at present, and it is plain we have not suffered enough, labored enough, repented enough, to deserve success. But they will brighten after a while, and I trust that a merciful God will arouse us to a sense of our danger, bless our honest efforts, and drive back our enemies to their homes. Our people have not been earnest enough, have thought too much of themselves and their ease, instead of turning out to a man; have been content to nurse themselves and their dimes, and leave the protection of themselves and families to others. To satisfy their consciences they have been clamorous in criticizing what others have done, and endeavored to prove that they ought to do nothing. This is not the way to accomplish our independence."

Who wrote this? Robert E. Lee, on March 2, 1862, in a letter to his daughter, all of eighty years ago.

We've come a long way since the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor woke us up, but still there is much to atone for—the years of unpreparedness, the willful blindness which underestimated the strength and malice of our enemies, and the heroism of those who opposed them.

Are we, at last, earnest enough—working hard enough, putting in those extra hard licks for victory? Or are we still idling on the job? Have we stopped grumbling at war time inconveniences, or are we still trying to petty cheats, such as hoarding, to live our lives in the old selfish way? Are we too, "nursing our dimes," or are we digging down to the very bottom of our pockets to buy War Bonds and Stamps?

Are we paying our share of the price of victory? Or are we still hoping that somebody else, perhaps our soldiers and sailors, or even the people next door, will pay it for us?

Lee's letter should make us search our hearts, and redouble our fight!

What They Say ---

Captain Damon Geuse, who escaped from the Japs at Manila—"It wasn't navigatin' that got me to Australia; it was the grace of God."

Henry J. Kaiser—"People can not sit on the lid of progress. If they do they will be blown to pieces."

Gertrude Atherton, celebrating 85th birthday—"I'm vain, and it's always been good for me. I think vanity is a good thing for any woman's morale."

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

OTHERS are beginning to wonder—so why shouldn't we?—not only about the War's effect on Government but also its effect on Religion. Not that there's any sharp dividing line between the two according to most reports. The Four Freedoms, the Atlantic Charter, the recent speeches of Field Marshal Smuts, Vice President Wallace, Wendell Wilkie, and others, have all been warm with a feeling that could rightly be called religious—if we accept as authority for the use of that word what Jesus called the two great commandments. Or what William Temple, Archbishop of Canterbury, has gone right on proclaiming since his enthronement—to the horror of some British—and also American—torities.

SOMEWHAT as Isaiah may have given pain to the stories of Zion when he spoke of good tidings for the meek, of binding up the brokenhearted, proclaiming liberty to the captives, the opening of prisons to them that were bound, Isaiah's words seem so fit, in fact, to the present mood of the United Nations, that we might use his words direct for what we're calling "the Peace" and what he called not only "the acceptable year of the Lord" but also "the day of vengeance of our God." For Isaiah was saying then just as William Temple and his like are saying now: "... they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities..."

ALL the professional religious journals—or, at least the more intelligent among them—have naturally shown a certain awareness that the War is bound to influence their special field however hard they may try to keep it aloof. But the religious publications no longer hold the monopoly they used to have. The recognition—in respectable circles—that Russia has a soul, Germany's assault on Christians as well as Jews, the Pope's relations with the warring nations, India's and even China's dubious regard for a so-called Christian civilization, all these and similar subjects are currently discussed in both newspapers and magazines where any hint of religious discussion was formerly regarded as undiluted poison.

YET—and yet—even so—we speak with the utmost hesitation—it seems to us that none of these spokesmen, lay or cleric, speak in a way that might best serve those whom these present discussions most concern. We mean those we now count on to do our fighting for us—the young millions, for example, now pouring into Africa. Most of whom, we figure, have already had at least some contact with religion—in Sunday-school, or Church, or Talmud-Torah; yet few of whom, perhaps, have had occasion to feel any overwhelming need for religion or surmise its infinite value. But soon they may. And when that moment comes will the old formulas reveal this value and fill the need? That is what we wonder.

LET'S imagine. Some boy, say, from Sierra Madre, out there in the sand alone under the African stars. Just an ordinary boy, neither too good nor too bad—confirmed, it may be, in the faith of his mother; and he thinks of her as praying for him now. For she suspects—he has the notion—that he's in the awful presence of death. As he knows he is. Too, she probably suspects there's a fear in his heart—which he won't deny; but she knows that he'll not let it make him act the coward—he'll show the whole world that she's right. Thinking of mother, he thinks of Sunday-school; and the old phrases come back to him. "For God so loved the world..." "his only-begotten Son" "...and Him crucified."

THE boy's in his fox-hole like a shallow grave. The enemy planes are coming over. The shells fall close. The desert sand fills the air like mist. And maybe he's been hit, although he feels no pain. For now the sand-mist has as if shut out the world, leaving nothing about him except a sort of joy and a luminous silence—as it has often happened, when he was absorbed in thought or was falling off to sleep. And now, strangely and happily, he feels that he is no longer alone; as out of the past there comes another old phrase: "Lo, I am with you always..." Was it true? He knows now that it was true.

WE'RE not making a story of this. Nor is it, after all, just imagination. The ages record such moments in the lives of countless men. And some have borne witness. How, after such an experience, all the old mists of religion had resolved themselves. Into a knowledge and a presence. So that, when their normal sight came back, they could never again look at the stars—or the mountains, like our own beloved Sierra Madre hills—without hearing an inner voice that said: "My Father made them! They—and I—and all that ever issued from the Father—We are his Only Begotten Son. And we also—the Crucified. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

Last year, and for several preceding depression years, a very and admittedly serious "youth problem" baffled the experts.

Nobody could think of a cure for the moral ills of young America, aggravated by depression deprivations—except the seemingly obvious one of ending the depression.

Then suddenly and dramatically, the depression ended. The United States went to war. Over night, jobs were available for everyone. Jobs with high salaries that grew higher. Thousands of families began to make more money in a day than they were able to earn or draw in State doles in a month during depression years. Money began to flow again, like water—and like water to slip easily through men's fingers.

And today—with depression turned to prosperity, the critical youth problem is still with us—stronger and in more menacing proportions than before. Today "youth problem" is still with us—it's called "juvenile delinquency", and its record mounts unhappily wherever war production plants have sprawled their new, box-like residential barracks; wherever new, highly-paid workers' communities have mushroomed to accommodate—with houses, schools and police protection—populations twice the size they were built to accommodate.

Juvenile delinquency is on the increase, and the greatest contributing factor is the new era of wealth where there was no wealth before. Quick prosperity is building as ugly a problem as poverty ever did.

A survey shows that the parents who failed to instill in their children a reasonable sense of values despite depression troubles, are the same parents who now set their children an example of careless living and profligate waste. Juvenile delinquents are chiefly the sons and daughters of parents who can't handle their newly-found wealth and their children, too.

Instead of bettering their living standards, many people are spending their money on liquor and neglecting their children," declares Robert S. Miller, chief probation officer of the San Francisco Juvenile Court. "I believe they should be prosecuted under the law."

Other Juvenile Court authorities are beginning to think the cure does not lie in jail sentences for children. They think the sentences should be passed instead on the parents of young offenders.

Undoubtedly, there seems to be no providential gift of good parenthood bestowed on all fathers and mothers along with their offspring. To correct the oversight, it is proposed to compel parents of young delinquents to attend educational courses in parent training.

Based on the oft-repeated premise; there are no "problem children" but only "problem parents", the plan may be a practical answer to a problem that throughout the nation desperately needs answering.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

TOMORROW'S BREAD.

THE OLD-TIME HARVEST MEANT FOOD AND SECURITY AGAINST THE COLD WINTER MONTHS... BUT A PORTION WAS CAREFULLY SET ASIDE AS SEED FOR SPRING PLANTING.

TODAY OUR HARVEST IS OF GREATER SCOPE—A "HARVEST" OF PRODUCTION FOR IMMEDIATE NEEDS—AND THE PORTION WE SET ASIDE IN THE FORM OF WAR BONDS, SAVINGS ACCOUNTS AND LIFE INSURANCE, CONTRIBUTES TO VICTORY—IS SEED SOWN NOW FOR A HARVEST OF PEACE.

Hinshaw's Majority 5655 With All Returns Counted

With all precincts in the 20th Congressional district heard from, Congressman Carl Hinshaw goes back to Congress with a majority of 5655 votes over Joseph O. Donovan, his Democratic opponent at last week's election. Complete unofficial returns from the district gave Hinshaw 60,957 votes, Donovan 55,302, Virgil Hinshaw (Pro.) 6949, Janie Bell McCarty 3496 and Orin Lair 815. Official canvass of all votes cast in the recent election began Monday. It is not expected to materially change the figure in this district.

Speeders Take Heed!

The Public Safety Department of the National Automobile Club reminds all speeders that a tire which will go 10,000 miles at 50 miles an hour will go 18,000 miles at 35 miles per hour. Certainly this is sufficient reason for reducing driving speed in keeping with the regulations of "mileage rationing" as established by the government.

Governor Olson's troubles still aren't over. Several top-flight Democrats, claiming that Olson isn't representative of their party, have started a quiet move to have him ousted to Democratic national committeeman from California.

Park City in Utah boasts of a "highway of silver." Surfaced with tailings from a nearby mining company, the highway contains deposits of silver, lead and zinc.

American boys in various Alaskan base hospitals, 119 of them, will receive useful as well as cheering gift packages one of these days before Christmas thanks to the boys and girls who make up Sierra Madre's Junior Red Cross. The packages are already on their way to Seattle.

The packages contained, to name just a few of the many items, cigarettes, razor blades, candy and tooth brushes. It should be remembered that some of the boys in the service have been "in" a long time and that the bristles on their own tooth brushes may be worn down to the sockets by now.

Movement to suspend the 40 hour work week for the duration is rapidly gaining ground. Voluntary agreements between labor unions and management for work up to a 56-hour week at "straight time" would be permitted under a proposed amendment to the fair labor standards act sponsored by Representative Ramspeck of Georgia, one of the outstanding supporters of organized labor in Congress and ranking member of the House Labor Committee.

Of every $100 spent in the U. S. War Program: $23 go for airplanes; $21 go for tanks, guns, and ammunition; $12 go for transport equipment and miscellaneous naval ships; $9 for industrial facilities; $8 for posts, depots and stations; $5 for merchant ships; $4 go for stockpile and food exports; $3 go for pay, subsistence, and travel for the armed forces; $1 goes for housing; and $4 go for miscellaneous war expenditures.

In two towns in northwestern Yugoslavia the other day, Nazi firing squads lined up 322 Yugoslav hostages and executed them. Such was the reprisal administered guiltless persons whose compatriots had blown up a military train bearing supplies destined for Rommel's troops in Africa. By the mass murder of Yugoslav patriots the Nazi killers have added one more chapter to the infamous crimes they will soon atone for.

One good miracle leads to another. Henry Kaiser's Portland yards having recently launched a ship in 10 days after laying the keel, his Richmond yards are this week launching a ship within five days. How fast is that? Well, World War I's best record was 212 days.

Musolini seems to have the invasion jitters. We are told that 20 to 33 army divisions are now at home in Italy, with most of them stationed in the south, or in nearby Sicily and Sardinia. Cooperating with the American Office of War Information, American bombers have produced an explosive effect—without bombs—by dropping thousands of leaflets upon Italian cities, informing the populace that the 600,000 Italian aliens in the United States have been removed from the status of enemy aliens. Where listening to short wave broadcasts may mean a long jail sentence, other means must be found. The Overseas branch of the OWI reports that in addition to leaflets, all sorts of gadgets are dropped by plane—soap, matches, games, all in packages containing messages from the United States. A leaflet may be a hidden treasure to be read over and over, and passed from hand to hand. Where soap and matches are scarce, a cake of soap down to the very last sliver, or a book of matches down to the very last light, is a reminder that the United States has extended the hand of friendship to the unhappy people of Nazi-ruled Italy.

Eggs for the Emperor's breakfast—COOKED BY GAS!

IT TAKES 1,000 cubic feet of gas to "cook" a 500-pound egg "for Hirohito"—enough for you to scramble an egg a day for 20 years! Just one example of the tremendous amount of gas needed for war production. That's why we say, "Use gas wisely. Don't waste it!"

GAS TOO, HAS ENLISTED

with Southern California War Industries—to help lick the Axis!

The same natural gas you use in your home has taken on a major wartime assignment. Twenty-four hours a day, it is doing double duty—

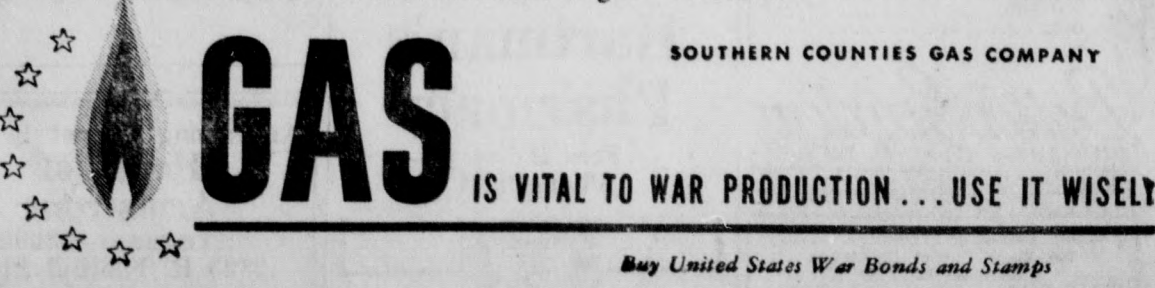

—speeding an unparalleled output of ships, planes, guns and bombs here in one of the three leading war production areas in the United States.

—supplying the enormously stepped-up demands of new population and housing, in addition to normal civilian demands.

Southern California is fortunate in having an abundant reserve supply of natural gas. But the problem this winter is to deliver the tremendous volume of gas needed in wartime...through a network of pipelines which was designed for peacetime. Moreover this network cannot be expanded—for it would take hundreds of tons of steel more vitally needed on other fronts.

Under these wartime conditions, certain situations such as extremes of weather, could create temporary emergencies when this peacetime system might be unequal to the task. This may mean asking you to use less gas for heating, while the emergency lasts—so that war production can have the right of way uninterrupted. From now on, the war has first call on us all...

How The Printer's Devil Got His Name

"Just to prove that there is nothing diabolical about the printing business here is the story of how the 'printer's devil' got his name," says a current issue of a trade paper. "The famed Sixteenth Century printer Aldus Manutius, brought to his shop in Venice a Negro boy as his helper. Venetians thought the dark skinned lad was a creature of the devil himself and so called him. The hue and cry waxed hot and finally old Aldus published this notice: 'I, Aldus Manutius, printer of the Holy Church and to the Doge, have this day made public exposure of my 'devil.' All who think he is not flesh and blood may come and pinch him.'"

Ev'rybody Ev'ry Pay Day

6,000,000 Women Enrolled in War Savings Payroll Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Women At War Week, opening Nov. 22, during which women will seek to sell the greatest single week's volume of War Bonds and Stamps will serve to put the spotlight on the mighty contribution women generally are making toward financing the war.

Six million women are on War Savings payroll plans. Their monthly deductions total $70,000,000.

The customers of 300,000 newspaper boys who have sold more than $50,000,000 in War Bonds and Stamps are mostly women.

Volunteer saleswomen run nearly all the Bond booths in theatres from Maine to California. They also are sparking the War Bond sales in retail stores.

Ralph G. Engelsman, Associate Field Director of the payroll savings section of the War Savings Staff, readily admits that without the support of women the phenomenal record of payroll savings enrollments would not have been achieved. Payroll savings plans are now in operation in 148,000 businesses and factories. Employees of twenty-five thousand of these firms are converting at least 10 percent of gross payrolls into War Bonds every payday.

Associate Field Director Engelsman says that women have contributed directly and indirectly toward this record. When a man devoted 10 or more percent of his pay envelope to War bonds, the woman at home has had a powerful voice in the decision. Her planning, her economies and her cheerfulness play their part in the success of payroll savings.

The Treasury Department is counting upon this woman influence in its campaign to "top that 10 percent by New Year's." By the first of the year the Treasury hopes to enroll at least 3,000,000 women workers in a payroll savings plan.

'This Is My Fight Too'

Proud of her investment in the American way of life and equally proud of the grime of war production on her face and arms, the young lady in this "Women At War Week" poster symbolizes two of the chief activities of women at war.

And 5,000,000 more men with total deductions for War Bonds over the 10 percent mark.

Great Operetta Is Soon To Be Heard In Pasadena

Sigmund Romberg's "The Student Prince," known as the greatest operetta of the twentieth century, is announced for one performance only at Pasadena Civic Auditorium Thanksgiving night, Thursday, Nov. 26 by Wave-Hazelton. Though the operetta has been playing almost continuously since its first performance 18 years ago with literally dozens of companies, the Shubert brothers claim that this is the finest, most colorful presentation of the beloved musical play ever to travel across country. The tender story of the young prince who while a student at Heidelberg falls in love with Kathie, a waitress, and renounces his love when he is called to the throne, is said to have played to more audiences and more money than any play of the American stage.

Everett Marshall, noted baritone, will head the cast that will play the romantic story. Others in the cast will be Frank Hornaday, Barbara Scully, 18 year old find; Agnes Cassidy and Ann Pennington, famous dancer.

Political Parade

By CLEM WHITAKER

The American people are on the warpath, determined to get action "or else"—and the days of rubber-stamp Congress, blindly taking program from the White House and Washington departments, are definitely numbered!

That seems to be the major lesson to be learned from last week's startling election upsets, which virtually stripped President Roosevelt of control in both houses of Congress.

The new Congress, which convenes in January, will still have a Democratic majority—at least on paper—but actually, a coalition of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats will be able to effect a working majority on any controversial issue.

Washington is still rocking from the shock of Democratic defeats and Republican victories, but in the final show-down, the rebellion of the electorate will undoubtedly prove a healthy thing for the nation.

President Roosevelt, who has always had a Congress too-quick-to-serve, too ready to carry out his slightest suggestion, will benefit as much as the country at large, if he has the good sense to recognize that this is democracy at work—and that no man, in wartime, can or should speak for all America.

The people elected Mr. Roosevelt for a third term, the greatest honor ever conferred on any American President. But they also elected a Congress, which they expected to act as a check-and-balance on the President. When it failed to do so, they rebelled—and elected a Congress which is almost certain to end the rubber-stamp era in Washington.

The people of America are frankly concerned over the conduct of the war. They want a more vigorous prosecution of the war. They want a unified command. They want simplified war agencies. They want a balanced program covering rationing, inflation and manpower. They want New Deal politicians to stop talking about the people being soft, and unwilling to make the necessary sacrifices, for that is absolute bunk! The people only want intelligent direction; they want—and deserve—an end to the confusion of orders and decrees in Washington; they just want to be told what is expected of them, with some assurance that the order won't be countermanded the next day.

Another thing the people want is an end to the attempts to accomplish a social revolution in this country while we are engaged in fighting a war for survival. They don't believe that "brain-trusters" should take advantage of the fact that we are in a fight to the death and attempt to slip over a social revolution on us while we are in that

Friday The 13th To Be Lucky Day For Army Relief Fund

A lucky day for the Army and an unlucky day for the Axis.

Friday night, November 13, at 8:30 p.m., at the Carthy Circle Theatre, "Wings for America," Inc., a non-profit organization, is sponsoring an Army Emergency Relief Show. The theatre has been donated for the evening.

The committee has arranged for an exclusive advance showing of a top major studio hit. The Fort MacArthur Third Coast Artillery Band will play martial airs and special features will climax a gala evening.

The aircraft companies are going all out to make the show one of the best ever presented. The Lockheed "Buck of the Month" club is going to present a $15,000 check to the fund on Friday night. Most of the leading Hollywood stars have bought tickets for themselves and parties of friends.

It's common sense to be thrifty. If you save you are thrifty. War Bonds help you to save and help to save America. Buy your ten percent every pay day.

The people of America have only one fight now—and that fight is against our enemies; they will make any sacrifices to win that fight, but they don't want an internal fight now that will divide our country. That's the reason for the revolt, Mr. President. You might make note of it!

Record War Bond Sales Is Goal Of Women At War Week Nov. 22

WASHINGTON, D. C.—America's women in the cities and on the farms—in war factories and in their homes—are determined to make Women At War Week the greatest War Bond selling effort since Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt sounded the keynote for the Treasury Department's Women At War Week, Nov. 22 to 28, with an appeal to women to save on "little things" to provide money for War Bonds.

"We women want to work hard, we want to be a part of this strenuous period because unless we are, we will not be able to face the men when they return and claim our share of the future responsibility for building a peaceful world," the First Lady declared.

The overall direction of Women At War Week rests with the Women's Section of the War Savings Staff under the leadership of Miss Harriet Elliott, Associate Field Director, and Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Chief of the Special Activities Unit.

From coast to coast women in every community have made plans for torchlight parades, fashion shows, teas, rallies, store window displays, Stamp and Bond booths, pageants, civic sings, balls and mardi gras. In each locality administration of the one week drive rests with the local War Savings Committee which has worked out activities adapted to their areas.

Mrs. Morgenthau, in a special message for Women At War Week, declared that the spirit of America's pioneer women lives today more strongly than ever.

"The average American woman began to rise to new heights on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941," Mrs. Morgenthau said. "This winter the average American woman will be spending less in order to save more to invest in War Bonds and Stamps. She will not, please God, ever have to fire a gun or fly a bomber. But she will, please God, always do everything she can to help buy anything—and the best of everything—that fires or flies or floats in this terrible war."

During Women At War Week volunteer War Bond saleswomen will wear an armband similar to the one being attached to the sleeve of Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., by Miss Harriet Elliott.

WOMEN AT WAR—Overalls, wrenches and drills replace fineries as these war workers in an Army Arsenal march to tank repair shops. Note the determination on their faces. These women are typical of hundreds of thousands who are working in war factories and investing part of their earnings in War Bonds.

Mrs. Roosevelt (left) says women help men at front by buying War Bonds. At right is the lapel tag which volunteers will wear during Women At War Week, Nov. 22 to 28.

Important Events Billed For The Philharmonic

Manager L. E. Behymer announces three interesting events coming to the Philharmonic Auditorium this month. The sensational Flamenco dancer Carmen Amaya, who appears with her troupe of gypsy dancers, singers and musicians at 2 o'clock this coming Saturday afternoon, has been scheduled for another performance on Tuesday evening, November 17.

It is only two years ago that Amaya was discovered in Buenos Aires, and since her arrival in this country her many appearances from coast to coast were a triumph of brilliant successes.

Friday evening, November 20, General Plafoff's Don Cossack Chorus of 27 Russian male singers will be heard in an inimitable repertoire of sacred and secular melodies. To these are added the wild Cossack songs. As an added attraction members of the chorus also present a number of thrilling Caucasian dances.

Climaxing this month's attraction will be the annual visit of the well known Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, coming to the Philharmonic Auditorium for eight performances and three matinees, starting Friday evening, November 27, up to and including Saturday evening, December 5.
